

The Fort Wayne Sentinel.

ESTABLISHED 1833.

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1886.

PRICE THREE CENTS

FIRES!

New York and Chicago Scorched.

A Wabash Railroad Watchman Captures and Disarms Two House Breakers at Logansport.

Two Robbers are Shot Dead and Their Bodies Left for the Birds to Pick.

HE IS A DAISY.

Two Burglars Captured at Logansport.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
LOGANSPORT, April 22.—Last night, when Michael Ryan, who has charge of the Wabash water-tank at this place, returned home, he discovered three burglars at work in his house. He pursued them, and after following two of them a half a mile, grabbed a revolver from one of them, who was in the act of shooting him, and leveling it at him, ordered the pair to surrender. He then marched them to jail and turned them over to the sheriff, who identified them as a couple of tobacco thieves who were placed in jail some time ago, but against whom no substantial evidence could be secured.

BIG FIRES.

New York and Chicago Suffers Severely.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW YORK, April 22.—A fire at the corner of Crosby street and Broadway, this morning, caused a loss of $750,000. The building runs from Broadway to Crosby street, and its occupants are A. Laufer & Co., importers and dealers in hats; Planckey & Simon, manufacturers of neckwear; August Bros., manufacturers of boys clothing; Wm. Stoddard & Sons, importers of silks, and Messrs. August, Bernheimer, Bauer & Co.

CHICAGO, April 21.—A. P. Anderson & Co.'s school furniture factory burned this morning. Loss, $100,000.
Robbers Killed.
By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
VINITA, Indian Territory, April 22.—Wm. Wilworth, a resident of Coal Hill, Ark., was robbed in this nation last night of $1,820 in cash. He sold a lot of cattle, and with the purpose of throwing off the track any one evilly disposed, rode on ahead of his team. He crossed the Verdigris river and reached a point a mile east shortly before sundown. While passing a clump of brush the command to halt greeted his ears and two Winchester were presented. Wilworth was taken into a creek bottom near by, robbed, and kept about two hours. One of the robbers was Jim Proctor, a disreputable character; the other was a mulatto. This morning a posse of citizens struck the trail and the robbers were overhauled. The command to surrender was succeeded by an order to fire. Their dead bodies were left unburied.

Bold Cracksmen.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
Erie, Pa., April 22.—The gang of cracksmen who have been working northern Ohio towns entered Miles Grove last night, and robbed several houses. They entered O. A. Seager's and blew the safe, taking therefrom a large sum of money. The postoffice was the next point of operation. This safe was cracked, and $200 worth of stamps taken and a quantity of coin. The American express safe was blown and a considerable sum taken. The cracksmen carried off a large amount of goods, and operated in the boldest possible manner.

LIBBEY PRISON.

The Scene of Rebel Outrages, a Mass of Ruins.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—One of three tenements composing the building known as Libbey prison, used during the late war for keeping federal prisoners, collapsed yesterday morning from overburdened floors. The building was occupied by the Southern Fertilizing company, and the collapsed tenement was used for the storage of fertilizers. The damage to stock and building will likely foot up $10,000.

Yellow Fever Quarantine.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—The governor has issued a proclamation establishing quarantine from and after May 1, against all vessels arriving at the Mississippi quarantine station from South America and West India ports, in accordance with recommendations by the state board of health.

W. P. Schiefer, Fred Bartels, Frank Krauskopf and Martin Marshal were fined for fishing on Sunday.

FLOWERY STATESMEN.

Chang Yen Hoon and His Suite Tarry in Fort Wayne Very Briefly.

The Pittsburg train, from Chicago, whirled a distinguished party of celestial statesmen into the city at 7:40 last evening. Chang Yen Hoon, the new Chinese ambassador, his suite and servants, were en route to Washington from the Flowery Kingdom. Besides the ambassador, the members of the embassy consisted of the following: Yen Ling, Sin Tun, See Ling, Chang Toi, Chu Tak and son, Teok Che Liang and son, Chang Chen Park, Chen Park, Chen Hann Shing, Cong Sing Po, Ting Tin Ken, Leang Shung and brother, Lon Cheang Je, Lee Chang, Mac Lon, Chu Chung, Ching Shung, F. Jan Ho, Liang Chan, Kan Chow, and four servants.

The party stopped at the McKinnie house for supper, where a special and very elaborate bill of fare was arranged. It was the daintiest and oddest meal ever spread in Fort Wayne, and the almond-eyed statesmen relished the delicacies, which were ordered in advance by telegraph. The delegation seemed pleasant, probably because they had witnessed the Mikado at Chicago, and winked at the sines of the Garden City.

All eyes fell on Chang Yen Hoon, who cannot talk a word of English. His interpreter is Leang Shung, who was educated at Amherst college and talks guardedly to reporters. Mr. Woon, (notice the familiarity,) is about fifty years of age. His shoulders bend and a thin gray moustache adorns his face. His costume consisted of a tunic of light blue silk, with broad skirted gown of a peculiarly dark hue, and of the same material as his blouse. His head was ornamented with a small black skull cap, surmounted with a bright red button.

He is a mandarin of the second degree (red button). For six years he was collector of customs for the San Tung province, the port of which is Foo-Choo and the capital Lan Chau. Subsequent to that he was chief minister of the province. Again he was appointed collector of customs at Wu Hu, on the Yang-Tsue river, and next supreme judge of the province of Wu Hen. Thence he was called to Peking and assigned a position in the foreign office, or Tsung Li Youku. From this post he was appointed minister plenipotentiary and Envoy extraordinary to the United States, Peru and Spain. The party have brought no ladies with them, the wife of the ambassador being an invalid and remaining at Canton to look after the welfare of two young sons, and the other members of the party are yet nude about their place of residence, as they will be divided up among the embassies of the three countries, Spain, Peru and the United States.

THE FIRE HEROES

Asked to Make a Test of Speed Decoration Day.

Chief Hilbrecht has received a letter from the chief of the Chicago fire department, entreating an experiment, which, if carried out, promises to be of great interest and amusement throughout the country. It is well known that for many years great rivalry as to fast time has existed between the fire departments of the various prominent cities of the United States, though it is generally conceded that the championship lies between New York and Chicago. The idea is to make a test on Decoration day promptly at noon in all of the prominent cities, Fort Wayne included. The distance of the run will be named and laid out, and the time will be telegraphed to all of the cities simultaneously from Washington. Three judges will be appointed for each city to keep accurate time with the aid of stop-watches, the result to be telegraphed to Washington as soon as the test is made, and the general result and name of the champion department to be sent from Washington to the press throughout the country. Thus all question as to the championship will be settled. The men of each department will watch for the test with great eagerness and will doubtless begin to practice at once. There is no reason why Fort Wayne should not make a favorable showing.

SOLEMN TIME.

The Closing Days of Holy Week and Their Ceremonies.

These are solemn occasions in the Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches and the closing hours of the Savior are closely observed in ceremonies appropriate to them. The Catholic church especially observes these times and last night the office of the Tenebrae and Psalms were chanted by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, the Rev. Fathers Koenig, Oechtering, Young, Messman, Fallize, Romer, Koerd, Moench, Vagnier, Beeks, Lang, Hass, Benzinger and O'Leary.

This is Holy Thursday, or Maundy Thursday, the services commemorating the institution of the divine sacrament of the holy eucharist. The cathedral bells were rung during the gloria in excelsis, and will now be silent until Saturday morning. Toward the close of mass the blessed sacrament is carried in procession to the repository. Girls in white carrying flowers and boys carrying lighted tapers participated in the procession, together with the acolytes and the ministers of the mass. This evening, at 7:30, the office of the Tenebrae will again be chanted. There will also be special services in honor of the blessed sacrament and the chanting of the Passion.

Good Friday morning, takes place the ceremony of the uncovering and adoration of the cross.

Holy Saturday morning, holy water and the water used in baptism will be blessed and consecrated, and the bells will ring again.

A LOCAL STRIKE.

There is Trouble on the Nickel Plate Road To-day.

The Nickel Plate conductors are about all idle, and attribute their lay-off to trouble with their brakemen and men along the line. Others say the shop men at Stony Island have quit, others that the gravel train men, coal shovelers and yard switchmen quit. The Nickel Plate authorities neither deny nor confirm the rumor.

Business on the Lake shore branch here is very dull in consequence of the Chicago strike.

LITTLE RIVER DITCH.

Judge Haynes Establishes the Big Drain This Afternoon.

Judge Haynes came from Portland after dinner and at 3:30 he established the Little River ditch, leaving the former assessments stand, except $500 relief to the Muncie road and $5,000 for the removal of a mill dam on the line of the stream.

The ditch drains 30,000 acres of land in Allen and Huntington counties and 80,000 acres of land are assessed for constructing it. The estimated cost of the work is $125,000 and its completion will not only be a blessing to Fort Wayne, but will make Allen county the most fertile in the state.

LOCAL LINES.

John Meyer and Catherine Goegline have been licensed to wed.

J. R. Ross, the real estate agent, left this morning for Churubusco.

Judge O'Rourke gave Marshall Field & Co. vs. Hiram C. Modewell judgment on account for $930.18.

The Sol D. Bayless lodge will give a grand banquet next Wednesday night. Work in the third degree will begin in the afternoon.

Mr. Charles H. Bittenbender, who sells baled hay and cereals at a fat commission, "by the sweat of his brow," is running as a Knight of Labor candidate for council in the Eighth ward on a republican platform. THE SENTINEL will support the Knights of Labor, and wants to help them, but they ought, in all fairness and honesty, run a workingman one of their number, and not endeavor to label Mr. Bittenbender a "union made" Knight of Labor, because remotely he worked in a shop, and elect him in a ward that 200 or 300 democratic majority.

Hon. R. C. Bell and Supt. W. W. Worthington returned yesterday from Findlay, Ohio, where they inspected the great gas wells. Mr. Bell wonders why the gas was not utilized years ago, inasmuch as a dentist here has for twenty years supplied his house with natural gas from an old well. No one marveled at the discovery until the fever struck Findlay. The Standard oil company is controlling all the wells and leasing all the oil lands. An old farmer commands a yearly rental of $50 an acre for his land. The discussion of the gas discovery recalls the oil fever here years ago. A well out near Huntstown put forth evidence of oil and the excitement ran high here. N. B. Young held a lease on 1,000 acres of land in the vicinity, but nothing was developed. People posted on gas and oil business say if gas abounds in the earth hereabouts, it is certainly underneath that oil patch at Huntstown.

WORSE.

Five Hundred Men Strike at St. Louis.

A Missouri Pacific Freight is Ditched and the Train Men Badly Hurt.

Knights of Labor Strike at Chicago, Cincinnati and Grand Rapids To-day.

DITCHED.

A Missouri Pacific Freight Train Wrecked.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22.—A Missouri Pacific freight train was wrecked some distance below this city yesterday. Two rails had been torn up and the engine, fireman and brakeman were all injured.

500 MEN STRIKE.

St. Louis, April 22.—This morning 500 employees of the Missouri car and foundry company stopped work and joined the strike in obedience to an order from District Assembly No. 17, because of furnishing repair material to the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain companies.

GONE TO ARREST STRIKERS.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The Lake Shore Railroad company filed a bill in the superior court this forenoon charging the striking switchmen with trespassing on their premises, interfering with the movement of trains, and praying for an injunction to prevent their further interference with the operations of the company. Judge Garnett issued writs of injunction against the men, and at 12:40 p. m., a train, loaded with two hundred deputy sheriffs, left the Lake Shore depot for the scene of the strike to arrest those men and bring them into court.

ON THE GROUND.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The train with the deputy sheriffs reached Forty-third street and the deputies served the injunctions but did not arrest the switchmen. At 2 o'clock a crowd of 2,000 had gathered. The deputies tried to drive them off the grounds.

EXCITING SCENES.

CHICAGO, April 22.—At 2:40 p. m. an engine loaded with deputies and police was run out of the round house and before it reached the main track it was surrounded with men. One of the strikers spoke to the engineer. He immediately reversed his engine and ran it back to the round house amid the yells of the increasing throng.

BIG RIOT AT GREEN POINT.

HUNTER'S POINT, L. I., April 22.—About 1:30 this afternoon the strikers at Havemeyer's Sugar Refining works began rioting. The police were called out and attacked the strikers, but the strikers outnumbered and overpowered the officers. Three policemen were seriously injured and removed to the hospital. One striker was seriously injured about the head. Several pistols were fired. After driving the police from the works, the strikers captured several wagons loaded with sugar and dumped the contents in the street. The rioting still continues.

BOYCOTTING THE CHAMPION COMPANY.
COLUMBUS, O., April 22.—The executive board of the Ohio Trades and Labor assembly has promulgated a manifesto, boycotting the Champion Machine company, of Springfield, for alleged discrimination against the Knights of Labor.

STRIKE AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 22.—About a hundred employees of the Brunswick & Balke Manufacturing company, engaged in making billiard tables, struck to-day for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

AT GRAND RAPIDS.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 22.—The furniture workers demand an eight hour day and 10 per cent increase in wages after May 1.

MANUFACTURERS ORGANIZING.

CHICAGO, April 22.—About seventy-five furniture manufacturers, of Chicago, employing 4,000 men, have organized to resist the demands made by workmen. The manufacturers say they will not recognize any union or be dictated to by the union who they shall employ.

JAY GOULD TESTIFIES.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Jay Gould read a statement before the strike investigating committee to-day, saying his knowledge was second-hand, being derived from official reports. He repeated the statement that Powderly had agreed not to strike, but would come to him in case of any trouble. He became very much excited as he told of the forcible possession of his road by the strikers, who were refusing to allow loyal employees to run trains.

NO CHANGE AT 11 O'CLOCK.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Up to 11 o'clock there were no new developments at Forty-first street.

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Smart Couple Have a Little Fun at Toledo.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

TOLEDO, O., April 22.—A tall, well-built man of twenty-five or less, and a pretty young lady of sixteen or more, have been stopping for the past two weeks at the boarding house of S. F. Dyer, No. 237 Superior street. They claimed that they were married, and as they came well recommended no one suspected anything wrong. The young man dressed in a stylish Prince Albert suit, and the young lady in a handsome suit of golden brown. She had dark blue eyes, a petite form, auburn hair, a pleasant smile and bright and winning ways. The young man claimed to have wealthy relatives in Cleveland. He said that he was going to start a store at Berea, O., and that he was here to collect a note for $2,500 given to his father by butchers in this city for stock. He even engaged a book keeper to come from Bowling Green, and made great preparations for the new store. By his pleasant ways he managed to make a number of friends, who lent him money, taking his word and the sight of the large notes for security. But the notes were never collected. To-day they unceremoniously disappeared, and it is reported went west on the Lake Shore. The man claims to be J. A. Wood, of Cleveland, and the young lady that she formerly resided at Elkhart, Ind., and that her name was Bessie Furguson.

A Tax Collector Disappears.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
GREENCASTLE, Ind., April 22.—Quite a sensation was produced here by the mysterious disappearance of one Townsend Wilson, a tax collector of this place. Mr. Wilson left his home on Thursday morning, the 15th, and has not been seen or heard of since. He leaves a wife and five children in an almost helpless condition.

The Payne Testimony.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22.—The house of representatives this morning ordered the evidence taken by the Payne investigating committee printed in an appendix to the house journal and the discharge of the committee.

Railroads Consolidated.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22.—The Ohio and Kanawha and Kanawha and Ohio railway companies have consolidated with a capital stock of $12,200,000.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The News Near as Put in a Readable Way.

It was announced in Washington Sunday papers that Mr. Manning Logan, son of General Logan, is engaged to Miss Alexander, of New York, who was a guest of Mrs. Logan during the season.

Miss Francis S. Folsom, who is alleged to be married to President Cleveland in June, will sail for home May 18, an announcement which has revived in the east the story of orange blossoms in the white house.

James Nelson, of Wabash, who has served a fifteen months' sentence in the northern prison for counterfeiting, has made application to be released under the poor convict act from the payment of the fine imposed at the time of his sentence.

The clerks at the governor's and secretary of state's offices, says the Indianapolis News, are engaged in filling out commissions for justices of the peace who were elected at recent township elections. They have finished about 1,300 thus far and have only fairly begun.

"Gold has been discovered in Glen Miller creek and also in Hawkins' creek, near Richmond. We just expect a gold mine will be discovered here that will make Richmond a mining metropolis yet," chirps St. Jacob, but the saint is misled by his imagination. We have gold all about us, but only in small quantities, not worth working except for curiosity.

Gust LeGraw was to-day appointed mail carrier for the suburbs, vice Martin Schram, resigned to take a place at the Fruit house.

Louisa F. Miller sues Wm. Miller, of the gas factory, for a divorce, $1,000 alimony and the custody of four children. W. P. Breen filed the suit.

Musical.

The Fort Wayne Opera Club, for the study of light and standard operas will be organized at once and will commence the study of the famous opera, "The Bells of Corneville." Those with good voices wishing to become members can do so by paying the entrance fee of two dollars. Apply to the director, R. Cuttriss Ward, at Baldwin & Co.'s music house.

FIGHT!

Is the Program of Indiana Liquor Men,

Who Have Called a Convention to Protest Against High License in This State.

Natural Gas Increases Business at Pittsburg and Gives Work to 10,000 Additional Men.

HIGH LICENSE.

Its Hoosier Enemies to Fight It.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
INDIANAPOLIS, April 22.—The liquor dealers have sent out a secret circular calling a conference of the enemies of the high license movement, to be held May 6, at Indianapolis, to consider and decide upon the proper course to pursue, and if deemed expedient to effect a proper organization.

NATURAL GAS.

It Increases Business and Employs 10,000 Men.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
PITTSBURG, April 22.—Since the introduction of natural gas the output of the mills and factories has been increased twenty per cent, and nearly 10,000 additional men have been given employment.

WINE, WOMEN AND WOE.

A Well Known Traveling Man Blows Out His Brains.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Gustave Mendelson, a traveling salesman for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, committed suicide in this city at an early hour yesterday morning. Mendelson arrived here on Monday and put up at the Plankinton house. He took a drive in the company of two women of the town last night, and returned to the house of Maria Martin, on Biddle street, at 1 o'clock this morning, retiring with one of the women. About 5 o'clock he arose and asked for pen, ink and paper, and wrote several letters to his wife, son and daughter, who live in Chicago. At the conclusion of the writing he shot himself through the head with a revolver, death being instantaneous. The remains were removed to the morgue. The letters, which were opened by the coroner, directed the disposition of his effects and bade his family farewell. One sentence in the letter addressed to his wife was, "Nine thousand dollars is better to you than a husband badly in debt." His life is understood to have been insured for that amount.

Mendelson was one of the best known traveling men in the west, and annually sold over $300,000 worth of goods in Milwaukee. Deceased was about forty-two years of age. An inquest will be held to-morrow. He is said to have gambled heavily and to have been greatly dissipated of late.

A Train Ditched.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
ATLANTA, April 22.—A wrecker placed a cross tie on the East Tennessee track near Silver Creek Tuesday morning before day. A freight train struck it and rolled down a ten foot bank. One man was instantly killed and another fatally injured.

Judge John Morris has been all week at Angola as leading counsel in the DeLaney-Kirkendall case, involving the title to a fine farm, which old man DeLaney deeded to George Kirkendall, DeLaney's nephew contestants.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Wheat opened 1/4c lower, less doing. No. 2 red, May, 93 1/2@94. Corn, trifle better but quiet at 43@47. Oats, shade higher, 38@46.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Wheat, easier at 79 1/2. Corn, easy at 36 1/2. Oats, steady at 29 1/2.

EASTER MEATS.

An Ice Palace of the Most Delicious Varieties.

Mr. Leopold Wolf, the Broadway butcher, is arranging for a big beef kill to supply the easter trade. He makes a specialty of this business, and his slaughter house stalls are crowded with plump animals. Beef in all its varieties, delicious veal, mutton, pork and other meats in abundance. It will be fresher, harder and more appetizing in every way. He invites the attention of people in general to his place of business on South Broadway.

ROOT & COMPANY.

Balbriggan

Underwear

—FOR—

and Gentlemen.

The most Complete line ever shown in this city

Gauze Underwear

—FOR—

Ladies.

High Neck, Long Sleeves.
High Neck, Short Sleeves.
Low Neck, Short Sleeves.
Bodies.

Gauze Underwear

—FOR—

Gentlemen,

From 35c Up.

GAUZE UNDERWEAR

—FOR—

CHILDREN.

Long Sleeves, Short Sleeves, 18, 20, 25c and up.

FOR LADIES' WEAR.

NEW STRIPED HOSIERY.
BLOCK PLAID HOSIERY.
NEW LILE HOSIERY.
NEWSILK HOSIERY.

Childrens' Hosiery.

Complete new lines for Spring wear.

Call and Inspect.

Cheaper than Sod.

Lawn grass, 20 cents per pound, one pound covers twenty-five feet square.
S. BASH & Co.
m20-cod3w&wlm.

For Sale.

I will sell my interest in the Museum of Anatomy, now being exhibited at 36 Calhoun street. No better paying business in the city with same amount of capital invested. Satisfactory reasons given for selling. CHAS. GOODMAN, Jr.

The Quick Meal and Crown Jewel Gasoline Stoves at Staub Bros. Stove Store.

Bicycle, Shirts, Belts, Caps, Pants, Stockings and Gloves, all styles, at 21d4t SAM, PETE & MAX.

GARDEN SEEDS.

No old papers, all fresh and in bulk. Flower Seeds, Lawn Grass. Prices low and stock reliable.

S. BASH & Co.,
22 and 24 West Columbia street.
m20-cod3w&wlm.

Pyke's Grocery,

80 Calhoun Street.

Virginia Jams, finest in the market.

Plum Puddings with Sauce.
Boneless Chicken Canned.
Potted Chicken and Turkey.
Salmon Spiced.

Baked Sweet Potatoes Canned.
Figs Preserved.
Pine Apple Shredded, something new.

Gotha Truffle Sausage.
Chipped Beef in Cans.
White Port Wine, strictly pure.
G. H. Mumms Extra Dry Champagne.
Virginia Jellies, warranted pure.

Aug. 15-17

H N GOODWIN'S
Double Store.

Groceries!

124 Broadway.

Dry Goods

126 Broadway.
April 6-17

The Daily Sentinel

THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1886.

THE CITY.

Judge James Cheney is at New York City.

Peach trees are in blossom throughout the city.

Mr. D. S. Keil attended court at Huntington yesterday.

Miss Minnie Wilkinson is visiting at Mendon, Ohio.

R. A. VanFleet returned last night from Denver, Col.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, the state pension agent, is in the city.

The Knights of Labor give an excursion to Rome City June 14.

Columbia City will have a circus May 8, and Huntington will have one May 3.

Judge L. M. Ninde was at Huntington yesterday. He represented Mr. D. S. Keil in a suit down there.

Hon. J. L. Williams has just planted a fine grove of young maples about his South Calhoun street property.

Col. C. A. Munson has returned from a tour of the state and he seems to have been royally received everywhere.

"Mrs. F. M. Fisher was at Fort Wayne last week, the guest of Miss Laura Wood," says an Andrews correspondent.

A sign reading "scarlet fever" is tacked on house No. 165 East Wayne street. The disease is spreading in the city.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railway, popularly known as "The Fishing Line," sends out very neat "narrative folders" for the approaching season.

Albert Boner, Andrew Boner and Charles Wilson are boarding a $10 fine at the jail for assaulting Marshall Sam Johnson, of Monroeville, on election day.

In both Allen and Noble counties, primaries for the selection of delegates to state and district conventions will be held in the cities and each township, May 1.

The republicans of the first and second precincts of the Fourth ward will hold a caucus this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Anderson's hall, to nominate a candidate for councilman.

In the organ recital for the new Presbyterian church, Mr. Clarence Eddy will be assisted by Prof. C. F. W. Meyer, Messrs. Yarnelle and Lang, and Misses Kenower and Graves.

The Wabash has equipped several chair cars with wrought iron wheels. This class of wheels is in use on most English roads and also on the Grand Trunk. Many experts hold that it is the best wheel in use.

George Finkenbinder, of Huntington county, is fatally ill with brain fever. He is the father of Mr. J. S. Finkenbinder, formerly of this city, but now representative of the Singer sewing machine in Virginia and North Carolina.

John Wixson, of the Wabash, lost a $20 bill this week while making a trip on his run between Andrews and Toledo. He claims it was lost out of his pocket. If it was not for his good reputation we would suspect him of cooping the ace once too often.

The Indianapolis Journal of a recent date says: "George C. Boniface, in 'The Streets of New York,' closes his engagement at English's with two performances, this afternoon and evening. The standing room sign was hung out again last night and people were turned away."

W. H. Polhamus, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway, will be married at 5 o'clock this evening to Miss Jessie Carter, at the residence of her father, on East Main street. Rev. S. A. Northrop will perform the ceremony, after which the couple will go immediately to housekeeping at 163 West DeWald street.

This call is published at Columbia City: "The friends of the temperance cause will hold a mass convention in Columbia City, April 24, 1886, to nominate a prohibition county ticket. The Hon. B. B. Fowler, of Fort Wayne, will be present and deliver a lecture on prohibition. Let all friends of temperance attend the Macedonian cry."

The sale of the Wabash foreclosure will take place at St. Louis Monday, and the purchasing committee en route from New York, passed through here yesterday. The party comprised T. H. Hubbard, Edgar Wells, A. D. Ashley, J. F. Foy and Captain Pavy, who represent the English stockholders. The sale, it is said, will be merely formal, and the road will remain, most probably under its present management.

"Mrs. Burley, wife of the engineer, who has been suffering from dropsy for several years, died at Fort Wayne Monday evening. Mrs. Burley suffered a great deal, and spent the last two or three years in traveling to different medical cures with the hope of getting relief. Mrs. B. has numerous friends in this city who sincerely sympathize with the bereaved husband. They had no children," says an Andrews correspondent.

Miss Mattie Withers is at Chicago, the guest of her sister.

Frank Jackson and Charles Evans were at the Grand hotel, Indianapolis, yesterday.

Railway conductors say never before have they seen so many tramps along their lines.

Haffner's bakery team ran away this morning and were caught out near the French brewery.

The special committee on parks, of the common council, will, to-morrow, inspect the different parks of the city to be laid out.

The celebrated Kersandgminstrels will be at the Academy the first three nights of next week. Matinees will be given Tuesday and Wednesday.

Old Jim Miller, a colored warbler, is in from the poor house. Miller works the "growler"—or, to explain it, he draws the beer from old kegs.

The county commissioners yesterday let the Williamsport bridge for $558.50 less than the first bids. An agent stepped in to smash the combination.

George Hickman was arrested this morning for assault on Sam Hickman, his uncle. The parties live in Bloomington and Justice France hears the case.

C. D. Ogden, Boston; A. H. Fellows, Lansing, Mich.; J. Carruth, A. Welker, A. Allen, Cleveland; G. M. Carter, Fortoria, O., are among the guests of the Robinson house.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, slight change in temperature.

St. Johnson was taken to the state insane asylum this morning by Deputy Sheriff Schrader. County Clerk Maier telegraphed his application yesterday and it was accepted by wire.

John Holsworth was arraigned in Justice Ryan's court this morning on a charge of living in open adultery with Mary Connors. The people live along the canal and have one child.

Warrants were issued to-day for the arrest of Frank Krasnap, Martin Marsee and John Fleishman for violating the fish law. Justice Ryan will fine these men for using a dip net.

The street commissioner is now working with a new Fleming "Boss" road scraper on Jefferson street. It does excellent work and the council will likely order it purchased at its next meeting.

"Albert Berger started for Fort Wayne last Monday morning to open up his new mill. Al. has made enough money in this town and has gone to try his luck somewhere else," says an Avilla correspondent.

The Leonzos repeat "The Dog Spy" at the Academy to-night. There will be no matinee to-morrow afternoon—Good Friday. To-morrow and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, "The Planters Child," will be given.

When the Wabash went in the hands of Receivers Humphreys and Tutt the system consisted of 3,500 miles of road. Since that date quite a number of branches have withdrawn, the present number of miles operated by the receivers being about 2,150.

Mr. Spencer, chief engineer of the Pittsburg road, and Mr. Slataper, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania, were at home last evening, and this morning they started out, accompanied by Superintendent C. D. Law, in a special train, on a tour of inspection of the company's property west of here.

Speaking of the death of Rev. Father Twigg, the Lafayette Courier says: "He was about twenty-nine years of age, and was stationed in this city about a year and a half. During his stay in Lafayette he made a host of friends, who will hear with sorrow of his early death. He was an able and eloquent young divine, and his friends had predicted a bright future for him in the divinal field."

"James and Stella Roush left this place Monday for Fort Wayne, where they intend to take a reviewal course in the M. E. college under President Youm.—Rev. C. H. Murray, of Fort Wayne, who had charge of this circuit two years ago, was in this place Monday shaking hands with his many friends. The last conference sends him to Elkhart for the next conference year," says a Markle correspondent.

"The Rev. D. C. Woolpert preached his farewell discourse at the M. E. church on last Sabbath evening. The discourse was able, eloquent and practical, and it was a fine ending of what may be termed a very successful year in the ministry of Mr. Woolpert. There is a general feeling of regret by all of our people at the failure of the conference in not returning him here for another year, but when the matter is carefully canvassed and all circumstances considered, the action of the conference will not be questioned nor Mr. Woolpert's motive assailed. Ministers, like everybody else, have aspirations, which are proper and right, and Fort Wayne presents a greater field for Mr. Woolpert's ability and energy, and the conference undoubtedly did the proper thing in locating him there," says the Kendallville News.

Mr. James Humphrey, of the Bliss house, Bluffton, is in town to-day.

The Order of Railroad Conductors will call a meeting in their hall Sunday at 2 o'clock.

The Wayne township schools will continue open another month, making a nine month session.

Some one saw the guard rail off the East Main street bridge yesterday and the pedestrians may walk into the river.

To-morrow is Good Friday and the Lutherans observe the occasion solemnly, some of them suspending business.

Herman Fregang, postmaster at Angola; E. Vanauken, postmaster at Pleasant Lake, and Capt. John R. Smith, postmaster at Kendallville, were in the city to-day.

Tom Ahern denies that T. Demosthenes Weaver has any grounds for a suit against him. Weaver struck his ankle against an iron bar and stretched the tendons of the limb.

General Finley, an ex-congressman from the Bucyrus, Ohio, district, is at the McKinnie house. Heavens in congress with Hon. W. G. Colerick and paid a high tribute to Judge Colerick's ability as a statesman.

Hon. R. C. Bell and Superintendent W. W. Worthington, left for Eaton, Ind., last night to further investigate the oil and gas wells lately discovered at that point, and to attend a meeting of the stock holders of the Eaton company.

The Nickel Plate has not joined the Central Traffic association passenger department, and the Nypano has not yet concluded to go in without the Nickel Plate. The permanent settlement of Cleveland rates is therefore seemingly as far distant as ever.

The executive committee of the Jeffersonian club met last night and decided to report a plan for permanent organization to the club next Monday night. A permanent hall will be leased and the membership and privileges of the club will be open to all democrats alike.

Ed Sidel is in trouble just now. The assessors appraised his Calhoun street block at $25,000 yesterday and Mr. Sidel protested it was too much, saying he would sell it for that money and give $500 commission. Mr. H. H. Bossler got T. B. Hedekin and Barney O'Connor to offer $26,000 for the block. Mr. Sidel refused to accept, but Mr. Bossler wants his commission just the same.

Assessor Slater has appointed Miss Julia M. Briant, daughter of Ex-County Commissioner Briant, a clerk in his office. Wm. Gifford succeeds Patrick Fallahee as deputy assessor. Mr. Fallahee resigned to accept a better position under Boltz & Derheimer. Wm. Briant exerts a controlling interest in the assessor's office. Mr. Slater examines the work after stop hours.

Mr. David Edward, who resides in Jefferson township, through his attorney, Nelson Myers, has filed a suit in the superior court against Lewis Driver, Joseph S. Coullards, Frank Lamont, Charles Dodier, Francis Boile and Peter Dordine, charging that on the 14th day of last March they assaulted him, broke the bridge of his nose, knocked him down and pitched him over the fence, where they left him unconscious. He asks $5,000 damages.

After May 1, Fort Wayne merchants and shippers will enjoy the benefit of the cheap joint interior tariff rates, giving wholesale men a chance to compete with and surpass Chicago, Cincinnati and other big cities. After June 1st, Fort Wayne will be listed on the east bound freight traffic agreement, giving us just as many privileges as Chicago or any commercial center. These rates apply to all railroads and give Fort Wayne merchants a decided boom.

"The Hon. Montgomery Hamilton was in this city a short time last week. He has many friends here who would be pleased to see him nominated for congress at the Auburn convention. Mr. Hamilton has been an untiring worker for democratic principles and democratic success. His efforts in the Allen county democracy have always been on the side of right, and the large democratic majority of that county is due to such able and careful advisers as Montgomery Hamilton, and we are assured that his county will send a large number of delegates to Auburn in his interest," says the Kendallville News.

The proprietor of the Academy hotel, Baltimore, Md., Wm. Delphy writes: "My wife suffered most acutely from rheumatism, the terrible pain would seemingly yield to nothing. She was induced to try Salvation Oil and after using only half a bottle, it not only relieved her, but effected an entire cure."

See the self-lighting Gasoline Stoves at Staub Bros., 16 E. Columbia street.

Staub Bros. are headquarters for Gasoline Stoves and Refrigerators.

Mrs. Ridley, of Cleveland, Ohio, teacher of decorative art, will place samples of her work on exhibition at the Avenue house parlors Thursday and Friday of this week. The ladies of Fort Wayne are cordially invited to call. It.

See our line of Boys' Bicycle suits. 21d4t SAM, PETE & MAX.

THE PASSOVER.

The Hebrews Appropriately Observing the Memorable Feast.

Tuesday was the first day of the Jewish feast of Passover, which continues seven days, the first and last being holy days. It is the memorable feast of Israel's departure for Egypt, the first declaration of independence, the first attempt in the history of man to establish a free nation on the basis of justice and equality. In Palestine the Jews never forgot to celebrate the national feast, unless their rulers are so wicked to worship God, or celebrate the day of liberty and equality. It was the feast of freedom and the Paschal lamb was the symbol. The memorial has been preserved in the oldest form of the Passover family service (Seder), which took the place of the Paschal meal.

The Paschal lamb is sacrificed no more; the unleavened bread and the bitter herbs which were eaten with the sacrifice are the only symbols which have been retained, and the family worship in every Jewish house on the Passover eve has taken the place of a memorial of ancient days. The Passover is annually a revival and reunion in Israel. On that day Israelites appear before God in their temples, as did their sires before them in Jerusalem.

The Porter-Stratton Wedding.

Mr. C. D. Porter and Miss Gene Stratton were married last evening at the residence of the bride's father, at Wabash, Ind. They are both well and favorably known here, Mr. Porter being a brother of Dr. M. F. Porter, and Miss Stratton a sister of Irwin Stratton, of this city. Quite a large number of people were present, and the presents were numerous and valuable. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Brown, pastor of the First Methodist church at Wabash. At its conclusion the bridal pair received the hearty congratulations of many friends.

There were present from this city Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Stratton, Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilding, Miss Mollie Harter, Misses Jessie and Fannie Winch, and Mr. H. D. Winch. From Decatur, Ind., Miss Bertha Holloway, Miss Fannie Dorwin and Mr. Dick Dorwin. From Geneva, Ind., Mr. Will Winch and Mr. Keister.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will be at home at Decatur, Ind., after April 29.

The popular "striped Mikado silks," all the rage in the east, can be seen in varieties at the Bee Hive.

M. FRANK & Co.,
62 and 64 Calhoun street.

For everything new and fancy in the millinery line go to Mrs. F. M. Chapman's, No. 140 Broadway. 22-2t

The Woodbine Saloon.

Louis Baue, corner Barr and Columbia streets, will give his friends schooners of Bock beer on Saturday. 21-3t.

Something New.

The latest shades in the "Mikado" silks just received at the Bee Hive. We control this popular fabric for Northern Indiana. Examination solicited.

M. FRANK & Co.,
Bee Hive,
Corner Calhoun and Berry streets.

Bock Beer is King.

The Riedmiller brothers yesterday received a car load of delicious bock beer from the famous Buckeye brewery at Toledo. The Messrs. Riedmiller have the beer in kegs and bottles for their customers and another car load is coming to-night, so great is the demand. 21-2t.

Bicycle Stockings, all colors and prices. SAM, PETE & MAX. 21d4t

Oil Cake Meal.

For horses and milch cows. Nothing equal to it for milk and cream. Only $1.40 per hundred pounds, delivered. Sacks free.

16-6t

LINSEED OIL WORK.
Next door to S. Bash & Co.

Store your Base Burner Stoves with Staub Bros., 16 E. Columbia street.

Last week of the Museum of Anatomy at 36 Calhoun street, open daily from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Ladies matinee Tuesday and Friday afternoon, from 2 to 6 p. m.

Call and see Staub Bros. Gasoline Stoves and Refrigerators before purchasing.

Stoves will be well cared for if stored with Staub Bros., 16 E. Columbia street.

See the self-lighting Gasoline Stoves at Staub Bros., 16 E. Columbia street.

Staub Bros. are headquarters for Gasoline Stoves and Refrigerators.

Mrs. Ridley, of Cleveland, Ohio, teacher of decorative art, will place samples of her work on exhibition at the Avenue house parlors Thursday and Friday of this week. The ladies of Fort Wayne are cordially invited to call. It.

See our line of Boys' Bicycle suits. 21d4t SAM, PETE & MAX.

TWO CITIES

Are Again Dragged Into a Very Spicy Divorce Case.

Messrs. Irwin Stratton and Isaac Wiseman have been retained in a sensational divorce case in Whitley county. Fred Oman, a farmer, discovered his wife nestled in the arms of E. M. Curtis, a sewing machine agent. Curtis is a masher from New Jersey, where he has a wife and children. When Oman remonstrated his erring spouse for proposing to skip to Fort Wayne with Curtis, she simply packed up her duds and is living with Curtis at Columbia City, having abandoned even her children. The Fort Wayne attorneys are for the woman, who sues for a divorce and $5,000 alimony.

Mrs. Oman is rather small and handsome, and has some bad blood in her. They have three children, all boys, the oldest eleven years of age. Mr. Oman owns a farm of 160 acres of good land, is out of debt and has plenty means besides. He is regarded by all as a good man and citizen.

The warmer weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

The latest fashions, striped Mikado silks in a variety of shades at the Bee Hive, 62 and 64 Calhoun street. It Don't fail to see the fine stock of Pansy's all in full bloom, at the New Green House, corner Harmer and Erie streets. 19tf.

When you are out for a drive, don't fail to drive by the New Green House and see the pansies all in full bloom at the New Green House, corner Harmer and Erie streets. 19tf.

Decorative Art Store.

Miss Marlette and Mrs. Sheaff have opened with a very carefully selected stock, comprising satins, silks, plushes, vases, cloths, burlap, etc. Arrangements in silks, tinsels, etc. Chenille balls, fringes, cords, banners, fancy baskets, etc. Lessons given in all kinds of art, needle work, lustrous painting, Paris tinting and modeling in clay. Orders solicited for all kinds of decorative work. Stamping done to order and a large variety of patterns to select from. 21-3m

Fishing Tackle.

Sportsman's Emporium.

MAX G. LADE,

No. 58 East Main St.

We have the Largest and Best stock this season, ever brought to our City, and sell at BOTTOM PRICES fine Japanese and Bamboo poles, Jointed Rods, Reels, Lines, Hooks, Sinkers, Artificial Baits, &c. Call and see the great display. 22d2t

SAY,

Do you Want Any

SIGNS?

If so, call on

W. S. HARRISON,

Not the only Practical, but one of the BEST

SIGN PAINTERS in the city. Designs of any kind of work furnished on application. Prices far below any competitor. No. 27 Clinton street.

SIGNS!

tues thurs sat d3m

WINDOW CURTAINS.

Bankrupt Stock at Half the Price Charged For the Same Goods Elsewhere.

Good curtains, mounted with fixtures, complete for 25c. and upwards.

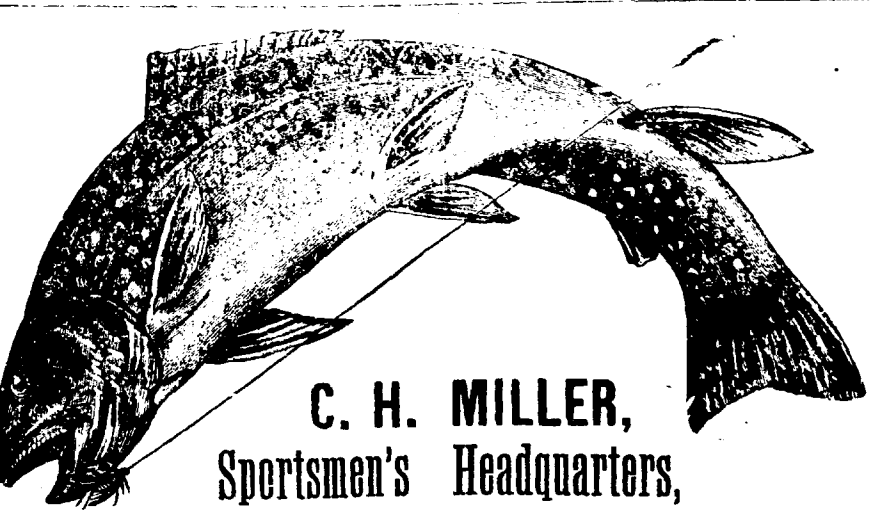

Also the largest stock of wall paper in the city at the lowest prices.

Good gold patterns at 12½ cts. per roll and upwards.

It will always pay you to call at 56 CALHOUN STREET.

Keil Bros.

April 17-cod-1m.

C. H. MILLER,
Sportsmen's Headquarters,

No. 27 WEST MAIN STREET, FORT WAYNE, IND.
THE LARGEST STOCK OF FISHING TACKLE EVER BROUGHT TO THE CITY
JUST RECEIVED. PRICES TO SUIT THE TIMES. I CAN SUPPLY DEALERS AT VERY LOW RATES. Tues, Thurs and Sat.

The Fort Wayne Sentinel.

ESTABLISHED 1833.

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1886.

PRICE THREE CENTS

FIRES!

New York and Chicago
Scorched.

A Wabash Railroad Watchman Captures and Disarms Two House Breakers at Logansport.

Two Robbers are Shot Dead and Their Bodies Left for the Birds to Pick.

HE IS A DAISY.

Two Burglars Captured at Logansport.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
LOGANSPORT, April 22.—Last night, when Michael Ryan, who has charge of the Wabash water-tank at this place, returned home, he discovered three burglars at work in his house. He pursued them, and after following two of them a half a mile, grabbed a revolver from one of them, who was in the act of shooting him, and leveling it at him, ordered the pair to surrender. He then marched them to jail and turned them over to the sheriff, who identified them as a couple of tobacco thieves who were placed in jail some time ago, but against whom no substantial evidence could be secured.

BIG FIRES.

New York and Chicago Suffers
Severely.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW YORK, April 22.—A fire at the corner of Crosby street and Broadway, this morning, caused a loss of $750,000. The building runs from Broadway to Crosby street, and its occupants are A. Langer & Co., importers and dealers in hats; Planck & Simon, manufacturers of neckwear; August Bros., manufacturers of boys clothing; Wm. Stoddard & Sons, makers of silks, and Messrs. August, Bernheimer, Bauer & Co.
CHICAGO, April 21.—A. P. Anderson & Co.'s school furniture factory burned this morning. Loss, $100,000.

Robbers Killed.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
VINNIE, Indian Territory, April 22.—Wm. Wilworth, a resident of Coal Hill, Ark., was robbed in this nation last night of $1,820 in cash. He sold a lot of cattle, and with the purpose of throwing off the track any one evilly disposed, rode on ahead of his team. He crossed the Verdigris river and reached a point a mile east shortly before sundown. While passing a clump of brush the command to halt greeted his ears and two Winchester were presented. Wilworth was taken into a creek bottom near by, robbed, and kept about two hours. One of the robbers was Jim Proctor, a disreputable character; the other was a mulatto. This morning a posse of citizens struck the trail and the robbers were overhauled. The command to surrender was succeeded by an order to fire. Their dead bodies were left unburied.

Bold Cracksmen.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
ENIZ, Pa., April 22.—The gang of cracksmen who have been working northern Ohio towns entered Miles Grove last night, and robbed several houses. They entered O. A. Seagr's and blew the safe, taking therefrom a large sum of money. The postoffice was the next point of operation. The safe was cracked, and $200 worth of stamps taken and a quantity of coin. The American express safe was blown and a considerable sum taken. The cracksmen carried off a large amount of goods, and operated in the boldest possible manner.

LIBREY PRISON.

The Scene of Rebel Outrages, a
Mass of Ruins.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—One of three tenements composing the building known as Librey prison, used during the late war for keeping federal prisoners, collapsed yesterday morning from overburdened floors. The building was occupied by the Southern Fertilizing company, and the collapsed tenement was used for the storage of fertilizers. The damage to stock and building will likely foot up $10,000.

Yellow Fever Quarantine.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—The governor has issued a proclamation establishing quarantine from and after May 1, against all vessels arriving at the Mississippi quarantine station from South America and West Indian ports, in accordance with recommendations by the state board of health.

W. P. Schiefer, Fred Barrels, Frank Krauskopf and Martin Marshall were fined for drinking on Sunday.

FLOWERY STATESMEN.

Chang Yen Moon and His Suite
Tarry in Fort Wayne Very Briefly.

The Pittsburg train, from Chicago, whirled a distinguished party of celestial statesmen into this city at 7:40 last evening. Chang Yen Moon, the new Chinese ambassador, his suite and servants, were en route to Washington from the Flowery Kingdom. Besides the ambassador, the members of the embassy consisted of the following: Yen Ling, Sin Tan, See Ling, Chang Tai, Chu Tuk and son, Teok Che Liang and son, Chung Chen Park, Chen Park, Chen Huan Shing, Cong Sing Po, Ting Tin Ken, Liang Shung and brother, Lon Cheung Jo, Lee Chang, Mao Lon, Chu Chung, Ching Shung, F. Jan Ho, Liang Chuu, Kan Chow, and four servants.

The party stopped at the McKinnis house for supper, where a special and very elaborate bill of fare was arranged. It was the dearest and oddest meal ever spread in Fort Wayne, and the almondest-eyed statesmen relished the delicacies, which were ordered in advance by telegraph. The delegation seemed pleasant, probably because they had witnessed the Mikado at Chicago, and winked at the sins of the Garden City.

All eyes fell on Chang Yen Moon, who cannot talk a word of English. His interpreter is Lennu Shung, who was educated at Amherst college and talks guardedly to reporters. Mr. Moon, (notice the familiarity,) is about fifty years of age. His shoulders bend and a thin gray moustache adorns his face. His costume consisted of a tunic of light blue silk, with broad skized gown of a peculiarly dark hue, and of the same material as his blouse. His head was ornamented with a small black skull cap, surmounted with a bright red button.

He is a mandarin of the second degree (red button). For six years he was collector of customs for the San Tang province, the port of which is Foo-Choo and the capital Tan Chuu. Subsequent to that he was chief minister of the province. Again he was appointed collector of customs at Wn Hn, on the Yang-Tze river, and next supreme judge of the province of Wu Hen. Thence he was called to Peking and assigned a position in the foreign office, or T'ung Li Yaku. From this post he was appointed minister plenipotentiary and Envoy extraordinary to the United States, Peru and Spain. The party have brought no ladies with them, the wife of the ambassador being an invalid and remaining at Canton (look after the welfare of two young sons, and the other members of the party are yet undecided about their place of residence, as they will be divided up among the embassies of the three countries, Spain, Peru and the United States.

THE FIRE HEROES

Asked to Make a Test of Speed
Decoration Day.

Chief Hilbrecht has received a letter from the chief of the Chicago fire department, entreating an experiment, which, if carried out, promises to be of great interest and amusement throughout the country. It is well known that for many years great rivalry as to fast time has existed between the fire departments of the various prominent cities of the United States, though it is generally conceded that the championship lies between New York and Chicago. The idea is to make a test on Decoration day promptly at noon in all of the prominent cities, Fort Wayne included. The distance of the run will be named and laid out, and the time will be telegraphed to all of the cities simultaneously from Washington. Three judges will be appointed for each city to keep accurate time with the aid of stop-watches, the result to be telegraphed to Washington as soon as the test is made, and the general result and name of the champion department to be sent from Washington to the press throughout the country. Thus all question as to the championship will be settled. The men of each department will watch for the test with great eagerness and will doubtless begin to practice at once. There is no reason why Fort Wayne should not make a favorable showing.

SOLENN TIME.

The Closing Days of Holy Week and Their Ceremonies.

There are solemn occasions in the Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches and the closing hours of the Savior are closely observed in ceremonious and appropriate to them. The Catholic church especially observes these times and last night the office of the Tenebrae and Psalms were chanted by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, the Rev. Fathers Koenig, Oechtering, Young, Messman, Follitz, Romer, Koerdt, Moench, Vignier, Beeks, Laug, Hass, Benzinger and O'Leary.

This is Holy Thursday, or Maundy Thursday, the services commemorating the institution of the divine sacrament of the holy eucharist. The cathedral bells were rung during the gloria in excelsis, and will now be silent until Saturday morning. Toward the close of mass the blessed sacrament is carried in procession to the repository. Girls in white carrying flowers and boys carrying lighted tapers participated in the procession, together with the acolytes and the ministers of the mass. This evening, at 7:30, the office of the Tenebrae will again be chanted. There will also be special services in honor of the blessed sacrament and the chanting of the Passion.

Good Friday morning, takes place the ceremony of the uncovering and adoration of the cross.

Holy Saturday morning, holy water and the water used in baptism will be blessed and consecrated, and the bells will ring again.

A LOCAL STRIKE.

There is Trouble on the Nickel
Plate Road To-day.

The Nickel Plate conductors are about all idle, and attribute their lay-off to trouble with their brakemen and men along the line. Others say the shop men at Stony Island have quit, others that the gravel train men, coal shovelers and yard switchmen quit. The Nickel Plate authorities neither deny nor confirm the rumor.

Business on the Lake shore branch here is very dull in consequence of the Chicago strike.

LITTLE RIVER DITCH.

Judge Haynes Establishes the Big Drain This Afternoon.

Judge Haynes came from Portland after dinner and at 3:30 he established the Little River ditch, leaving the former assessments stand, except $500 relief to the Muskego road and $5,000 for the removal of a mill dam on the line of the stream.

The ditch drains 30,000 acres of land in Allen and Huntington counties and 80,000 acres of land are assessed for constructing it. The estimated cost of the work is $125,000 and its completion will not only be a blessing to Fort Wayne, but will make Allen county the most fertile in the state.

LOCAL LINES.

John Meyer and Catherine Gorgline have been licensed to wed.

J. R. Ross, the real estate agent, left this morning for Chubbuck.

Judge O'Rourke gave Marshall Field & Co. vs. Hiram C. Modewell judgment on account for $930.18.

The Sol D. Bayless lodge will give a grand banquet next Wednesday night. Work in the third degree will begin in the afternoon.

Mr. Charles H. Bittenbender, who sells baled hay and cereals at a fat commission, "by the sweat of his brow," is running as a Knight of Labor candidate for council in the Eighth ward on a republican platform. The SENTINEL will support the Knights of Labor, and wants to help them, but they ought, in all fairness and honesty, run a workman one of their number, and not endeavor to label Mr. Bittenbender a "union made" Knight of Labor, because he is not a workman, but a capitalist.

Hon. R. C. Bell and Supt. W. W. Worthington returned yesterday from Findlay, Ohio, where they inspected the great gas wells. Mr. Bell wonders why the gas was not utilized years ago, inasmuch as a dentist there has for twenty years supplied his house with natural gas from an old well. No one marveled at the discovery until the fever struck Findlay. The Standard oil company is controlling all the wells and leasing all the oil lands. An old farmer commands a yearly rental of $50 an acre for his land. The discussion of the gas discovery recalls the oil fever here years ago. A well out near Huntertown put forth evidence of oil and the excitement ran high here. N. B. Young held a lease on 1,000 acres of land in the vicinity, but nothing was developed. People posted on gas and oil business say if gas abounds in the earth hereabouts, it is certainly underneath that oil patch at Huntertown.

WORSE.

Five Hundred Men Strike
at St. Louis.

A Missouri Pacific Freight is Ditched and the Train Men Badly Hurt.

Knights of Labor Strike at Chicago,
Cincinnati and Grand Rapids To-day.

DITCHED.

A Missouri Pacific Freight Train
Wrecked.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22.—A Missouri Pacific freight train was wrecked some distance below this city yesterday. Two rails had been torn up and the engineer, fireman and brakeman were all injured.

500 MEN STRIKE.

St. Louis, April 22.—This morning 500 employees of the Missouri car and foundry company stopped work and joined the strike in obedience to an order from District Assembly No. 17, because of furnishing repair material to the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain companies.

GONE TO ADJEST STRIKERS.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The Lake Shore Railroad company filed a bill in the superior court this forenoon charging the striking switchmen with trespassing on their premises, interfering with the movement of trains, and praying for an injunction to prevent their further interference with the operations of the company. Judge Garnett issued writs of injunction against the men, and at 12:40 p. m., a train, loaded with two hundred deputy sheriffs, left the Lake Shore depot for the scene of the strike to arrest those men and bring them into court.

ON THE GROUND.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The train with the deputy sheriffs reached Forty-third street and the deputies served the injunctions but did not arrest the switchmen. At 2 o'clock a crowd of 2,000 had gathered. The deputies tried to drive them off the grounds.

EXCITING SCENES.

CHICAGO, April 22.—At 2:40 p. m. an engine loaded with deputies and police was run out of the round house and before it reached the main track it was surrounded with men. One of the strikers spoke to the engineer. He immediately reversed his engine and ran it back to the round house amid the yells of the increasing throng.

NO RIOT AT GREEN POINT.

HUNTER'S POINT, I. I., April 22.—About 1:30 this afternoon the strikers at Havenay's Sugar Refining works began rioting. The police were called out and attacked the strikers, but the strikers outnumbered and overpowered the officers. Three policemen were seriously injured and removed to the hospital. One striker was seriously injured about the head. Several pistols were fired. After driving the police from the works, the strikers captured several wagons loaded with sugar and dumped the contents in the street. The rioting still continues.

BOYCOTTING THE CHAMPION COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, O., April 22.—The executive board of the Ohio Trades and Labor assembly has promulgated a manifesto, boycotting the Champion Machine company, of Springfield, for alleged discrimination against the Knights of Labor.

STRIKE AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 22.—About a hundred employees of the Brunswick & Balke Manufacturing company, engaged in making billiard tables, struck to-day for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

AT GRAND RAPIDS.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 22.—The furniture workers demand an eight hour day and 10 per cent increase in wages after May 1.

MANUFACTURERS ORGANIZING.

CHICAGO, April 22.—About seventy-five furniture manufacturers, of Chicago, employing 1,000 men, have organized to resist the demands made by workmen. The manufacturers say they will not recognize any union or be dictated to by the union who they shall employ.

JAY COULD TESTIFY.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Jay Gould read a statement before the strike investigating committee to-day, saying his knowledge was second-hand, being derived from official reports. He repeated the statement that Powderly had agreed not to strike, but would come to him in case of any trouble. He became very much excited as he told of the forcible possession of his road by the strikers, who were refusing to allow loyal employees to run trains.

NO CHANGE AT 11 O'CLOCK.

New York, April 22.—Up to 11 o'clock there were no new developments at Forty-first street.

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Smart Couple Have a Little Fun at Toledo.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
TOLEDO, O., April 22.—A tall, well-built man of twenty-five or less, and a pretty young lady of sixteen or more, have been stopping for the past two weeks at the boarding house of S. F. Dyer, No. 237 Superior street. They claimed that they were married, and as they came well recommended no one suspected anything wrong. The young man dressed in a stylish Prince Albert suit, and the young lady in a handsome suit of golden brown. She had dark blue eyes, a petite form, auburn hair, a pleasant smile and bright and winning ways. The young man claimed to have wealthy relatives in Cleveland. He said that he was going to start a store at Berea, O., and that he was here to collect a note for $2,500 given to his father by butchers in this city for stock. He even engaged a book keeper to come from Bowling Green, and made great preparations for the new store. By his pleasant ways he managed to make a number of friends, who lent him money, taking his word and the sight of the large notes for security. But the notes were never collected. To-day they unceremoniously disappeared, and it is reported went west on the Lake Shore. The man claims to be J. A. Wood, of Cleveland, and the young lady that she formerly resided at Elkhart, Ind., and that her name was Bessie Ferguson.

A Tax Collector Disappears.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
GREENCASTLE, Ind., April 22.—Quite a sensation was produced here by the mysterious disappearance of one Townsend Wilson, a tax collector of this place. Mr. Wilson left his home on Thursday morning, the 15th, and has not been seen or heard of since. He leaves a wife and five children in an almost helpless condition.

The Payne Testimony.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22.—The house of representatives this morning ordered the evidence taken by the Payne investigating committee printed in an appendix to the house journal and the discharge of the committee.

Railroads Consolidated.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22.—The Ohio and Kanawha and Kanawha and Ohio railway companies have consolidated with a capital stock of $12,200,000.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The News Near as Put in a Readable Way.

It was announced in Washington Sunday papers that Mr. Manning Logan, son of General Logan, is engaged to Miss Alexander, of New York, who was a guest of Mrs. Logan during the season.

Miss Francis S. Folsom, who, it is alleged, will be married to President Cleveland in June, will sail for home May 18, an announcement which has revived in the east the story of orange blossoms in the white house.

James Nelson, of Wabash, who has served a fifteen months' sentence in the northern prison for counterfeiting, has made application to be released under the poor convict act from the payment of the fine imposed at the time of his sentence.

The clerks at the governor's and secretary of state's offices, says the Indianapolis News, are engaged in filling out commissions for justices of the peace who were elected at recent township elections. They have finished about 1,300 thus far and have only fairly begun.

"Gold has been discovered in Glen Miller creek and also in Hawkins' creek, near Richmond. We just expect a gold mine will be discovered here that will make Richmond a mining metropolis yet," chirps St. Jacob, but the saint is misled by his imagination. We have gold all about us, but only in small quantities, not worth working except for curiosity.

Gust LeGraw was to-day appointed mail carrier for the suburbs, vice Martin Schram, resigned to take a place at the Fruit house.

Louise P. Miller sues Wm. Miller, of the gas factory, for a divorce, $1,000 alimony and the custody of four children. W. P. Brown filed the suit.

Musical.

The Fort Wayne Opera Club, for the study of light and standard operas will be organized at once and will commence the study of the famous opera, "The Boats of Cornville." Those with good voices wishing to become members can do so by paying the entrance fee of two dollars. Apply to the director, R. Curtis Ward, at Baldwin & Co.'s music house.

FIGHT!

Is the Program of Indiana Liquor Men,

Who Have Called a Convention to Protest Against High License in This State.

Natural Gas Increases Business at Pittsburg and Gives Work to 10,
000 Additional Men.

HIGH LICENSE.

Its Hoosier Enemies to Fight
It.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
INDIANAPOLIS, April 22.—The liquor dealers have sent out a secret circular calling a conference of the enemies of the high license movement, to be held May 6, at Indianapolis, to consider and decide upon the proper course to pursue, and if deemed expedient to effect a proper organization.

NATURAL GAS.

It Increases Business and Employs 10,000 Men.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
PITTSBURGH, April 22.—Since the introduction of natural gas the output of the mills and factories has been increased twenty per cent, and nearly 10,000 additional men have been given employment.

WINE, WOMEN AND WOE.

A Well Known Traveling Man
Blows Out His Brains.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Gustave Mendelson, a traveling salesman for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, committed suicide in this city at an early hour yesterday morning. Mendelson arrived here on Monday and put up at the Plankinton house. He took a drive in the company of two women of the town last night, and returned to the house of Mamie Martin, on Biddestreet, at 1 o'clock this morning, riding with one of the women. About 5 o'clock he arose and asked for pen, ink and paper, and wrote several letters to his wife, son and daughter, who live in Chicago. At the conclusion of the writing he shot himself through the head with a revolver, death being instantaneous. The remains were removed to the morgue. The letters, which were opened by the coroner, directed the disposition of his effects and bade his family farewell. One sentence in the letter addressed to his wife was, "Nine thousand dollars is better to you than a husband badly in debt." His life is understood to have been insured for that amount.

Mendelson was one of the best known traveling men in the west, and annually sold over $500,000 worth of goods in Milwaukee. Deceased was about forty-two years of age. An inquest will be held to-morrow. He is said to have gambled heavily and to have been greatly dissipated of late.

A Train Ditched.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
ATLANTA, April 22.—A wrecker placed a cross tie on the East Tennessee track near Silver Creek Tuesday morning before day. A freight train struck it and rolled down a steep embankment. One man was instantly killed and another fatally injured.

Judge John Morris has been all week at Angah as leading counsel in the DeLaney-Kirkendall case, involving the title to a fine farm, which old man DeLaney decided to George Kirkendall. DeLaney's nephew contests.

THE MARKETS.

New York, April 22.—Wheat opened 1 1/2 cts lower, less doing. No. 2 red, May, 93 1/2 @ 94 1/2. Corn, trifle better but quiet at 43 1/2 @ 44. Oats, shade higher, 36 1/2 @ 37.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Wheat, easier at 70 1/2. Corn, easy at 36 1/2. Oats, steady at 29 1/2.

EASTER MEATS.

An Ice Palace of the Most Delicious Varieties.

Mr. Leopold Wolf, the Broadway butcher, is arranging for a big beef kill to supply the east trade. He makes a specialty of this business, and his slaughter house stalls are crowded with plump animals. Beef in all its varieties, delicious veal, mutton, pork and other meats in abundance. It will be fresh, hand-dressed in his mammoth cooler and inviting and appetizing in every way. He invites the attention of people in general to his place of business on South Broadway.

Newsdealers are as class popularly supposed to know a good thing when they see it, and are ever on the lookout for that which will interest and please the public. In a humble way Edison was once a newsdealer, having sold papers on railroads. Among newsdealers who have a keen eye to business and to everything that can be of benefit to Mr. G. W. Howe, of Vincennes, Ind., whose place of business is at No. 114 Second street, Mr. Howe was recently afflicted with rheumatism, but quickly cured himself by using Athlaphoras. This is what he says about it:

"Athlaphoras is a good medicine and it did for me all that I could ask. At the time when I began using it I was sadly afflicted with rheumatism. I was a helpless state and suffered untold pain, not being able to get out of bed or to be moved without enduring the greatest agony. I had read some time before of the wonderful cures of people effected by Athlaphoras, and at the time tried to buy it at the drug store, but could not find any. As I was determined to try it I sent to the company for some."

"Did it act quickly upon you?"

"I felt the effects almost immediately. After I had taken a few doses the pain subsided. The medicine seemed to go directly where the pain was."

"Have you had any return of the pain?"

"I have not suffered any to speak of since. I used only three bottles and consider it the best medicine for rheumatism that I know of. I recommended it to a gentleman in St. Louis who had his mother use some and was very much pleased with the result. I have recommended it to different persons, and in every instance where it was used it gave entire satisfaction."

J. A. Wilson, the well-known photographer, 6 and 8 Main St., New Albany, tells an equally interesting story of how Athlaphoras cured him of rheumatism:

"I only used one bottle," he says. "The rheumatism was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a great deal, when a friend coming into my gallery one morning asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. Said my friend: 'I was reading of a medicine that is for the cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. It struck me forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to.' When I asked him what it was he said the name was Athlaphoras. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago and have not had a pain or an ache from rheumatism since."

From Greenville, Ind., D. L. Southard has this to say of how Athlaphoras did for him:

"When Bishop Bowman brought me a bottle of Athlaphoras I was suffering greatly from rheumatism and could scarcely move. I began taking the medicine on Thursday morning. At 9 P. M. I went to sleep and slept until 6 o'clock Friday morning, when I got up and said to my wife: 'Dear, look here, I am well.' At the first I was so much better that I stopped using the medicine and the rheumatism came back. The second attack was not stopped so easily, but still in double the time the Athlaphoras removed the pain. The medicine had no unpleasant effect, but seemed to quiet, soothe and give relief."

If you cannot get Athlaphoras from your druggist, we will send it, express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy from your druggist, but if he has not it, do not be perturbed to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed, Athlaphoras Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

For fifteen years, they have steadily gained in favor, and with sales constantly increasing have become the most popular corset throughout the United States.

The G quality is warranted to wear twice as long as ordinary Corsets. We have lately introduced the G and R grades with Extra Long Waists, and we can furnish them when preferred.

Prize awards from all the World's great Fairs. The last medal received is for First Degree of Merit, from the late Exposition held at New Orleans.

While scores of patents have been found worthless, the principles of the Glove-Fitting have proved invaluable.

Retailers are authorized to refund money, if on examination, these Corsets do not prove as represented. For sale everywhere.

Catalogue free on application.

THOMSON, LANGDON & CO., New York

March 12-15

Respectfully, DREIER & BRO.

All Sorts of hurts and many sorts of ails of man and beast need a cooling lotion. Mustang Liniment.

There Are a Few Druggists who care more to make a large profit on a worthless article than to wait for the prospect that ultimately results from honest dealing. These are the men who when asked for a Bennett's Capelin Plaster, will recommend some cheap and worthless substitute or imitation, saying it is "just as good." Sometimes they will do up and sell the miserable imitation without remark, allowing the customer to suppose he has Bennett's. If the valueless plaster is returned, cheap doing will say he made a mistake;—if not, he has done a good stroke of business. The public are cautioned against John and all his ilk. Only of respectable druggists only. Bennett's Capelin Plaster has the "Three Bulls" trade mark and the word "Capelin" cut in the center. 17-4w

Sick Headache.—Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman, thus relieved, writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight in gold." (Under, if you are a sufferer with sick headache, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It will do you positive good. Made by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists. 100 doses $1.00.)

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jun. 10-codaily.

The Indiana university freshman class passed the high-water mark and now numbers 101.

Count Leon Tolstoi, cousin of the Russian statesman who is organizing the reaction, is now working at shoemaking. He does all his own work. The Count has nine children, the eldest of whom has just finished his course at college. When the young man asked his father, a little while ago, what profession he would like him to take up, the answer he received was: "Go and sweep snow; all my children must earn their own livelihood. I shall give all my fortune to the poor."

Says Mr. Carnegie, in his new book: "Whenever an American is met abroad with the assertion that government in the republic is corrupt, he can safely say that for one ounce of corruption here there is a full pound of avoidance in Britain; for every 'job' here, twenty yonder. One nobleman gets £1,000 ($20,000) per annum for walking backward before her Majesty upon certain occasions, and so on through a chapter of 'jobs' so long and irritating that no American could patiently read through it."

A Philadelphia druggist found a pretty little girl in some out-of-the-way corner of the city, and engaged her to sit in his window and tie up packages of perfumery. Her presence in the window attracted such attention that crowds blockaded the streets in trying to see, and the authorities were compelled to order her removal. Some enterprising blue museum man might reap a fortune by securing half a dozen pretty girls for his show, and satisfying the evident hunger of Philadelphia for the sight of beauty.

Private Dalzell totally denies the stories of his broken health, poverty, approach to the almshouse, etc. To the Wheeling Intelligencer he writes: "I have not a gray hair in my head, am only a little past forty, my youngest child is a baby, and I am happy as a king on his throne. I am hungry as a saw-mill three times a day, have plenty of grub and a good wife to cook it. She can lick any man that calls me 'old.' I am a lawyer, therefore an honest man; have houses and land enough, clear of mortgage, and earn $3,000 a year by the law. Still, if any man has anything to give away I shall not refuse it. As for the poor-house—well, well, how this damnable world is given to heavy lying on the slightest provocation."

The late labor troubles have as yet, so far as known, created no new word or odd phrase, but one word of comparatively recent manufacture has passed current anywhere. It has become as well known and as much used here as in Ireland, its native land. The word is Boycott. The story of its creation is, briefly, as follows: Some six years or so ago a man named Captain Boycott was the factor or agent of a land-owner in Ireland. By his cunning and policy Boycott came to be very offensive to the tenantry, and so greatly was he disliked that the tenants petitioned the proprietor to remove him. This, however, that person would not do. The consequence was that the tenants and their friends refused to work for Boycott or under his instructions. The situation did not at first seem to be serious, but when the crops were to be harvested the people would not touch them, and this feeling spread among all their acquaintances, so that no one could be found who would assist or work in the harvest that year. The crops were in great danger; when some men from Ulster, under the protection of troops, did the work for Boycott. But it did not end there. The tenants had formed a strong fraternity among themselves, and before the contest had progressed a great way further their powerful league was shown. An idea may be gained of the thoroughness and extent of their organization by these instances. It was agreed that if any one had any dealings with Boycott or those who represented him, then no one was to have any dealings with that person; or if a man worked for Boycott, his old friends and neighbors refused to recognize, speak to, or have anything to do with him; no one would buy of him or sell to him, and he was to be looked upon and treated as a total stranger. To "Boycott" any one, therefore, came to mean a great deal, and the word became popular among the Irish, and then generally so, and now it is a part of our language.

My son has had rheumatism since he was four years old, suffering most in the spring. He has taken three bottles of Athlaphoras and I consider him entirely cured of his trouble. C. W. Brown, clerk of the circuit court, Ellsworth, Wisconsin.

Mme. Clara Schumann, despite her sixty-six years still, retains her physical powers and is regarded as one of the finest pianists in Europe.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
 100; 7th Madison Street.

